

I am strongly opposed to any change in the law that would concentrate the ownership of the various media any further; it is already too concentrated. I believe that widely decentralized ownership of newspapers, TV and radio stations, and other media is crucial to our free society, a free press, and freedom of speech. With the Bush administration trying to cut back our civil rights on many fronts, we need strong and independent media to keep Americans informed and free. If all the media are owned by only a few companies, we will effectively have censorship. Please keep our media accessible by preventing any further concentration of ownership!
